

CORE BANKING FUNCTIONAL CONSULTING

Functional expertise for real-world core banking delivery

EXECUTIVE OVERVIEW

This program develops the functional consulting skills required to participate in core banking implementation and transformation projects. It focuses on how banking business requirements are analyzed, structured, and translated into functional designs that drive system configuration, testing, and delivery.

Participants gain a practical understanding of core banking products, customer structures, and operational workflows, while learning how functional consultants collaborate with technical teams, business stakeholders, and project delivery units.
